Dedication

GARDNER PATRICK HENRY FOLEY

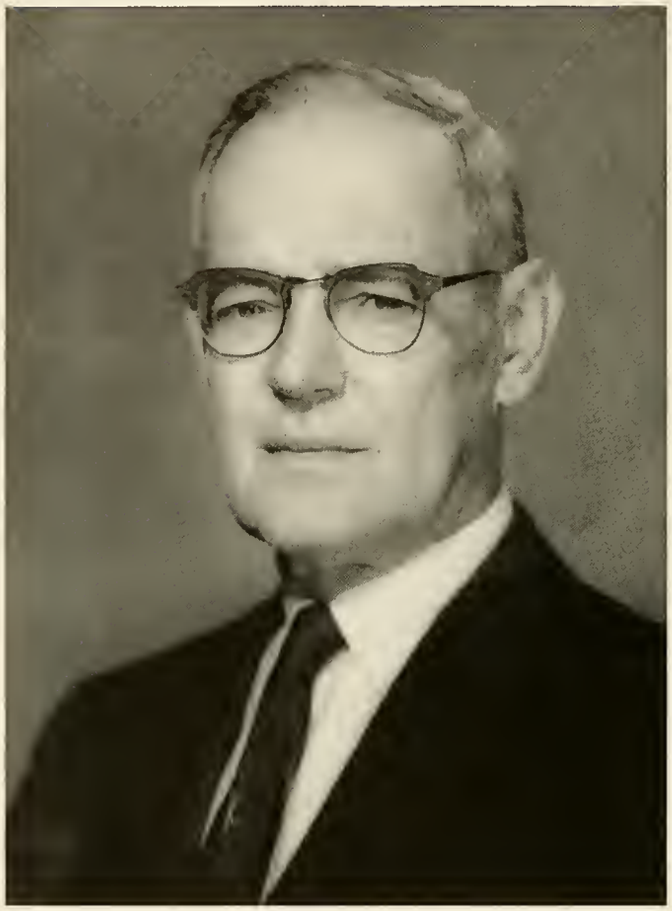
Professor of Dental Literature

There are many people to whom we are indebted. We are grateful to them all, for they have so earnestly tried to enable us to reach our goals as dentists. Occasionally and inexcusably, we tend to forget. We forget the person who has tried so hard and done so much to shape us as well as our futures so that we may better serve ourselves, our profession, and the public as well as our patients.

As students, we seldom realize or attach proper importance where it is due. As graduating seniors, when the future is almost at hand and tangible, we remember and appreciate. In this spirit, and with a sense of profound gratitude, we dedicate our yearbook to

GARDNER P. H. FOLEY

Honorary Senior Class President

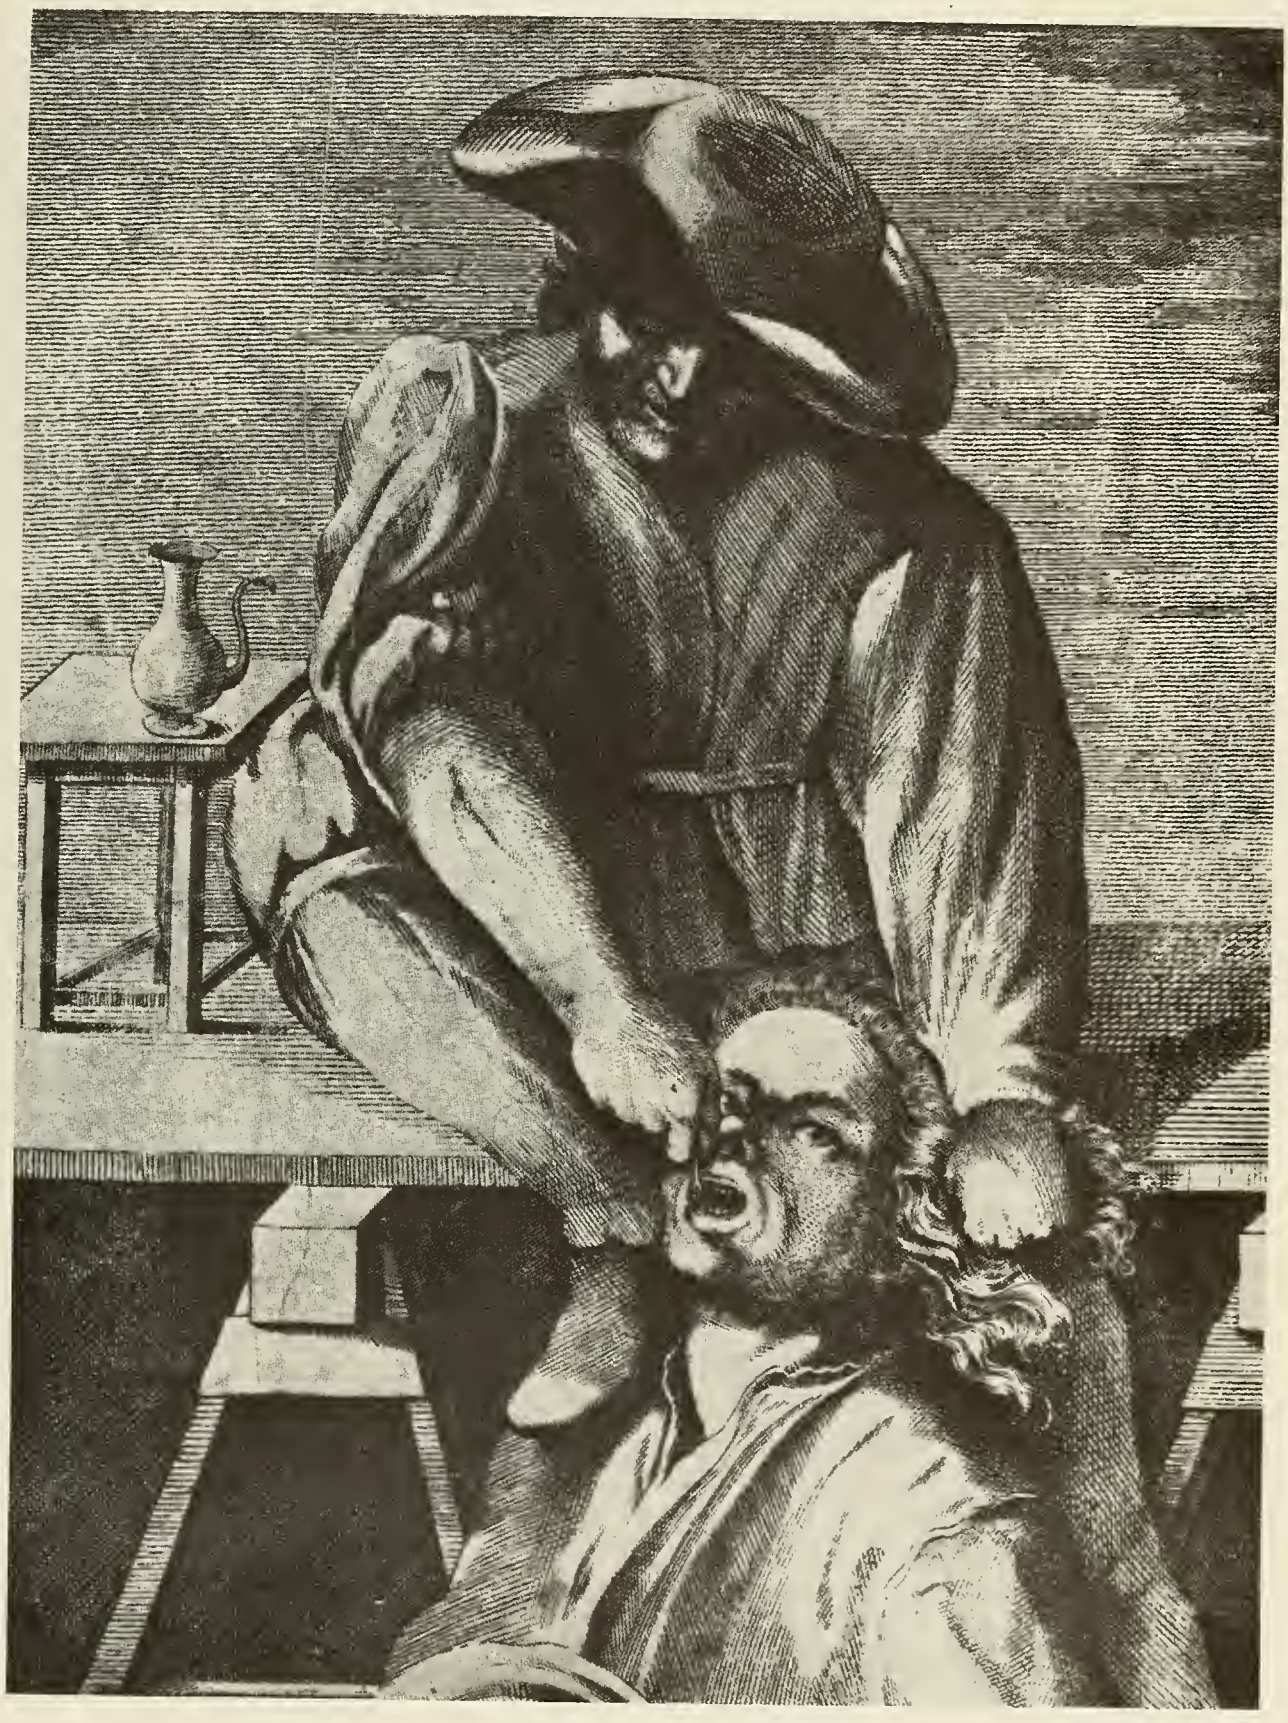


WALTER L. OGGESEN

After a half-century of service to the public and the profession as dentist and educator, Dr. Walter L. Oggesen is retiring with the Class of '64. He is retiring only from active professional participation, certainly not from the minds and hearts of thousands of students he has helped in so many ways.

Beneath his harsh exterior lies a person of truly noble and generous character; beneath his biting exterior lies an inherent warmth and fatherly interest in each student; beneath his ribald decorum lies a willingness to sacrifice time and effort so that a student may benefit.

Gratefully, we say farewell to Dr. Walter L. Oggesen, our Honorary Senior Class President.



Il Cavadenti

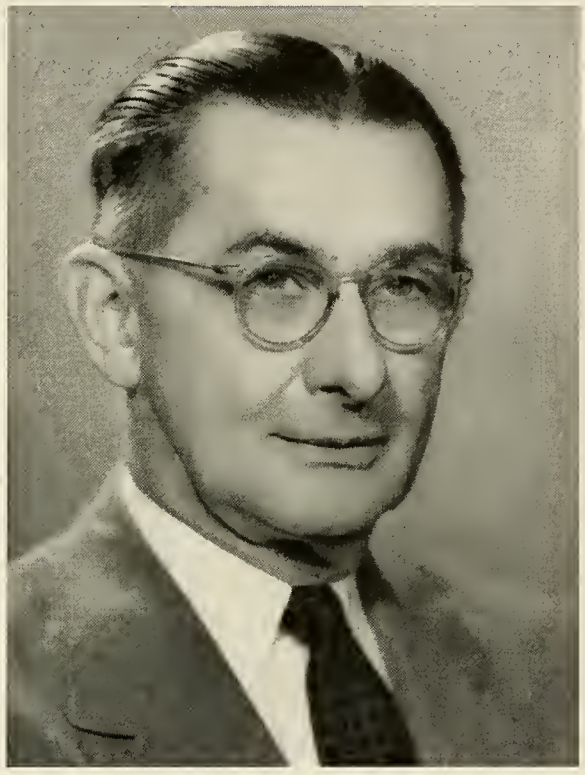
In Memoriam

GRAYSON WILBUR GAVER



The Class of '64 expresses profound sorrow over the loss of Dr. Grayson Gaver, gentleman, dentist, and friend. Solace, in part, can be derived from the fact that he will long be remembered by forty graduating classes of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery for his fatherly look, his friendly advice and air, his soothing voice, and encouraging pat on the back. In an atmosphere of continuous turbulence of pressure, of fear and anxiety, we recall the man and the department that he so ably shaped and led. We recall the quiet but firm leadership, the gentleman and his manner, and certainly the tremendous store of knowledge and skill that he left us.

As a standing memory to this humble yet great individual, each of us can but attempt to live up to his ideals of a noble profession. We are sure this would be his wish.

Tap-Tap! Tap-Tap! The sounds emanating from the clinic floor ushered in the senior year. It is a year of self-examination, of scrutiny, of major decisions; this is the essence of the senior year. The clinical requirements were indeed more profuse, diffuse, and at times obtuse (though usually acute); but this was expected. The last bridge, the last foil, the last perio chart, the last denture adjustment—these will always remain as nostalgic memories of an era in our lives when we thought things could be no worse while, in truth, things could hardly be better.

We look forward to the coming years so full of challenges and decisions, so laden with aspirations and ambitions, so seemingly predetermined with well-conceived plans and ideas. In retrospect, we can only appreciate and be grateful for the past four years and how they have prepared us in our chosen path in life.

We remember 1963-1964 as the year of the new dean, the year of the concrete plans for the new school, the year of the new charts, the year of the new prosthetics regime, and the year of the Gold Foil Academy demonstrations. We look back with a small lump in our throats and a trace of mist in our eyes, more from pride and happiness than from the thought of leaving the B.C.D.S. Contrary to what most students will say, we are and always will remain grateful to the faculty, the personnel, and the numerous other people who guided us through school and helped us to attain our goal — dentistry.

MARTIN CHAPUT JOSEPH MAZIKAS

The Class of 1965 looked toward its Junior Year as the "real" beginning of our careers in dentistry. How wrong we were about the "real" beginning! For we soon learned that without the proper preclinical years we would never have been able to master any of the techniques we used as Juniors.

September found us struggling to place rubber dams. We then encountered our first live patient. Scaling, root canal therapy, scaling, pedodontics, scaling, operative, scaling, crown and bridge, scaling and prosthetics was our schedule for the school year. Diagnosis, Surgery and Roentgenology assignments brought us in contact with many varied patient personalities. Somehow, somewhere, we found time to study for exams and national boards.

Christmas came and passed too quickly. February had mandibular and zygomatic injections in store for us. With the advent of warmer weather we began to panic; for it seemed an utter impossibility that we could finish our requirements. We "embryonic" dentists kept plugging, drilling and scaling until, as if by a miracle, we completed our requirements. Full of confidence, we now look forward to the Senior year, with all the experiences and trials which it promises.

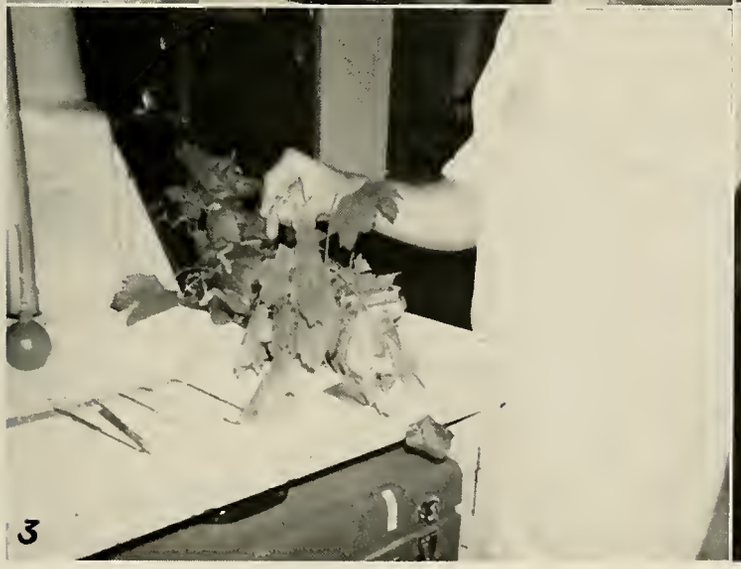
Third Row: Zugay, Stag, Kaufman, W. E., Wolk, Wibby, White, Stewart, Smith, Rayne, Meltzer.

The Juniors

1. I'd rather fight than switch.
2. Who says the alcohol is only for lamps.
3. I'll just tell them my clinic coats are in the laundry.
4. I just made my M9-(80)-2-6-7-3-9-3 L into a D 3-9-3-7-6-2-(80)-9R with one slice.
5. Who goosed me?
6. Who me? — exophthalmic?

The Juniors



1. C'mon with that condenser already!
2. Oh boy, just 10 more stamps and my book is filled.
3. Well, Dr. Shay said we could grow potatoes in it.
4. I hope this is big enough to attract them.
5. Oops, sorry sir.
6. That's a cute little toof.

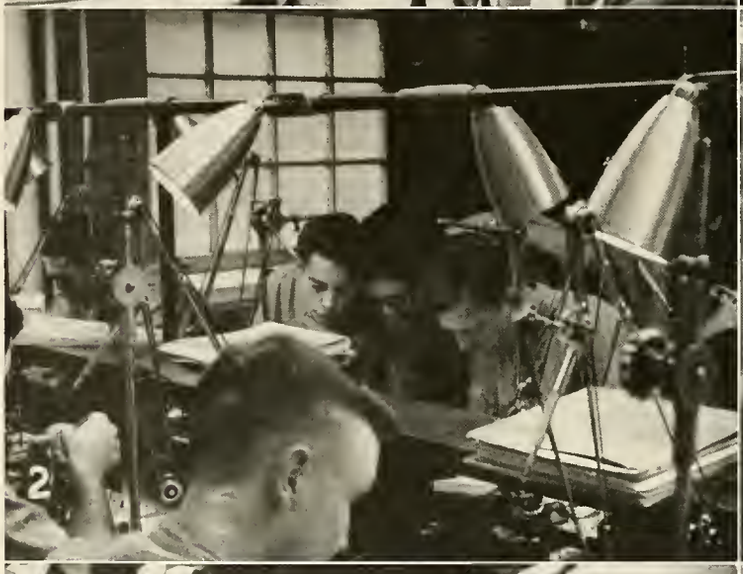
No longer at the bottom of the totem pole — to coin a trite expression — we returned to school last fall, confident that we must know almost everything. If this feeling prevailed up to the first round of tests, it was dropped abruptly soon after.

Watching the freshmen march off to Anatomy lab with their Woodbournes, we realized that we had left behind an important phase of our professional training. There was little time for reflection though, as Microbiology, Physiology, Pathology, not to mention all of the technique laboratories, claimed much of our time and energy. It is said that all behavior is purposeful and everything at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery has, if you find time to search long enough, a purpose. We found that the increase in academic and lab situations came between the cohesiveness of our class organization and more emphasis was placed on section function. Our loyalties were now divided, but the unity of our class remained unbroken.

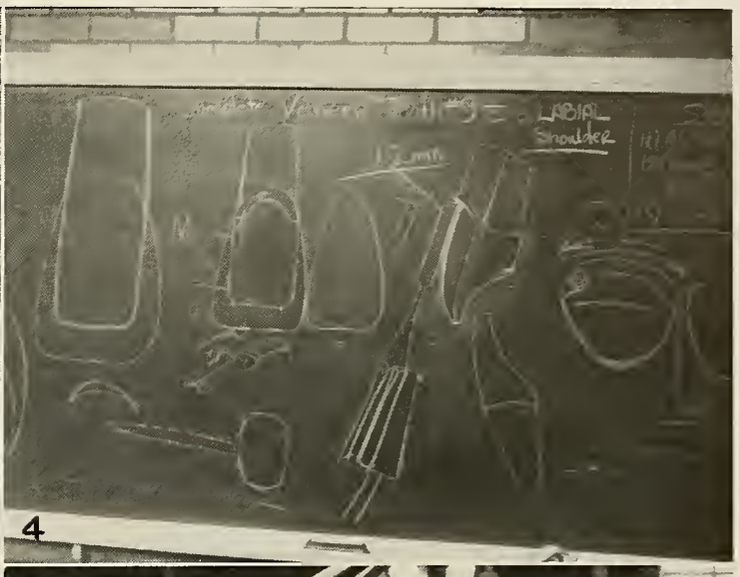
It is with great anticipation and perhaps unwarranted apprehension that we look forward to our clinical years. As this year comes to a resounding close, we find that we are one step higher —looking into the future with hope; looking back on the past with sighs. As the year drew to a close, we became juniors and wondered whether the graduates in reality did not envy us for our student status.

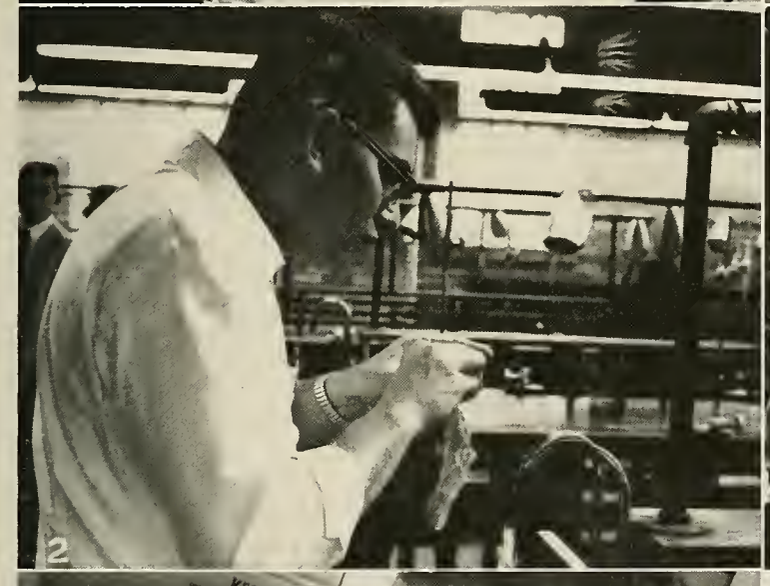
The Sophomores

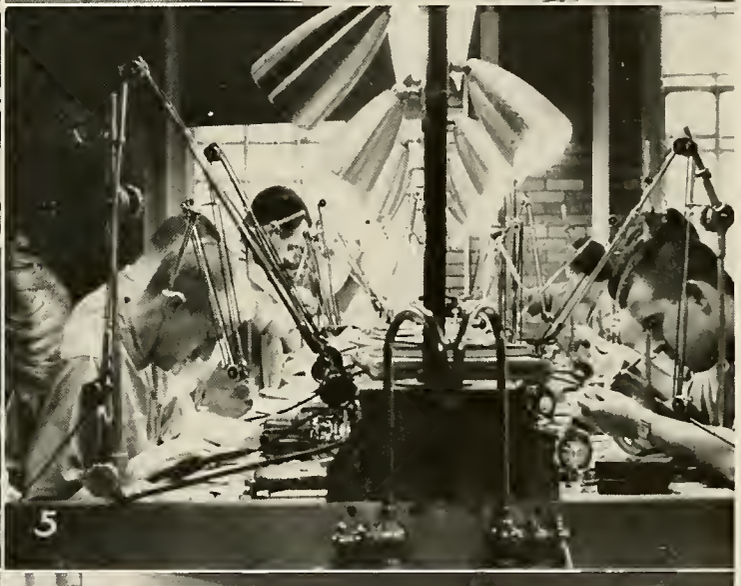


1. What'cha mean, you only help broads?
2. Do little — stand still — and know nothing.
3. C'mon Van, let's put our heads together.
4. OK, who called him Ringo?
5. Oh my God! How can I tell him that's my operative endoform.
6. Same to you, Champ.

The Sophomores







1. OK, youse guys, dis is how it's done.
2. Gosh, I hope I don't get a run in my hose.
3. Who needs hands with a mouth like mine?
4. 1,000 pictures are worth one word.
5. Get em in!
6. Thay fellas, who wants the next dance?

CHARLES BROWN HOWARD ROSENBERG

September 16, 1963, marked the beginning of a dental career for the Class of 1967 at the B.C.D.S. On this date the freshmen with forced casual attitudes surveyed the people with whom they would be working for the next four years, and officially became members of the University of Maryland, Baltimore campus.

The year's highlights included social and athletic events as well as academics. Preparing for the first anatomy exam was a highlight of sorts and was just short of being traumatic for some members of the class. After this hurdle the academic tone became more relaxed, and more relaxed and more relaxed . . .

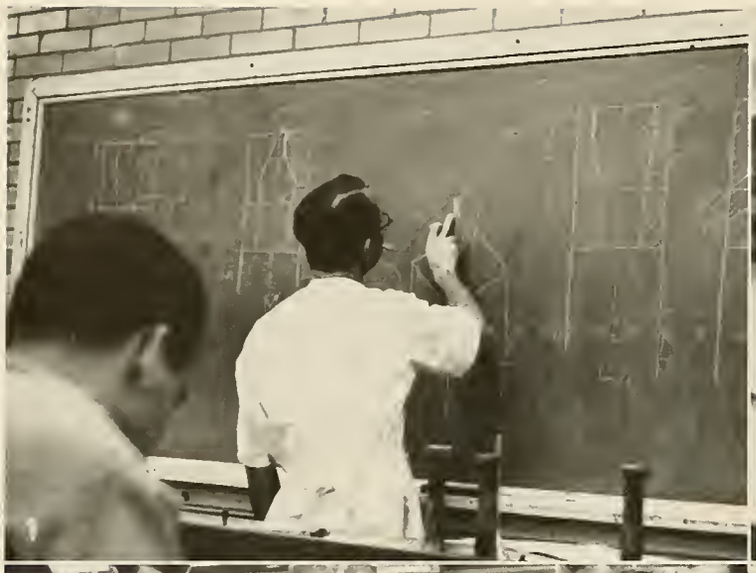
The freshmen engaged in fall sports with a football game between Sections A and B. The A's suffered an upset in the encounter and for this Section B was half a keg richer at the upcoming stag party.

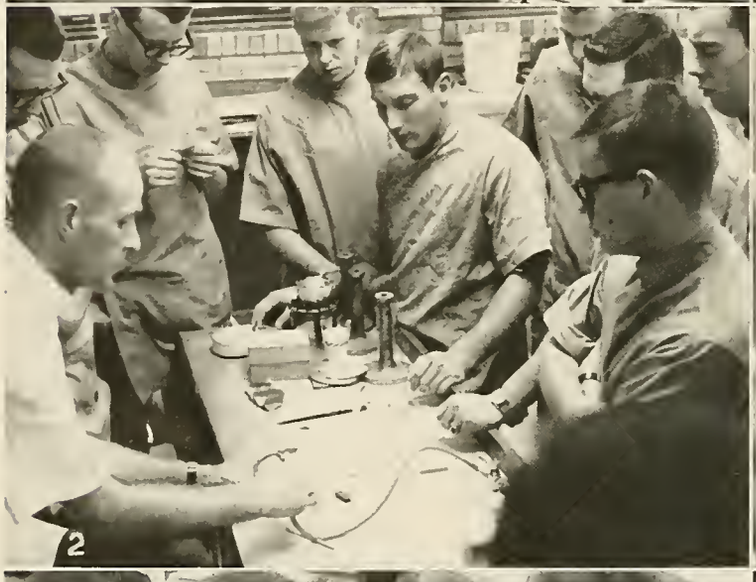
The freshman versatility in another line was displayed at the annual Faculty-Student Skit Night in February. Marshall Brownstein directed the first-place production "West Side Dentist" which was a relocation of the popular musical to the Dental School. Members of the class wrote lyrics and performed in the show. After this success certain individuals felt they may have entered the wrong field and considered abandoning dentistry for the stage.

After a seemingly endless wait, spring came to the Baltimore campus bringing to cheerless freshmen, trench coats, a general airing-out of the anatomy lab, and Neuro.

The year drawing to a close caused conversations to turn to discussion of summer jobs (or how to make the most money for the least work). The phrase was often heard "I can't believe the first year is nearly over," uttered with a certain ring of both relief and satisfaction. Next September the Class of 1967 will descend on the Dental School with the all-knowing self-assurance of sophomores. May the coming year prove to be equally successful!

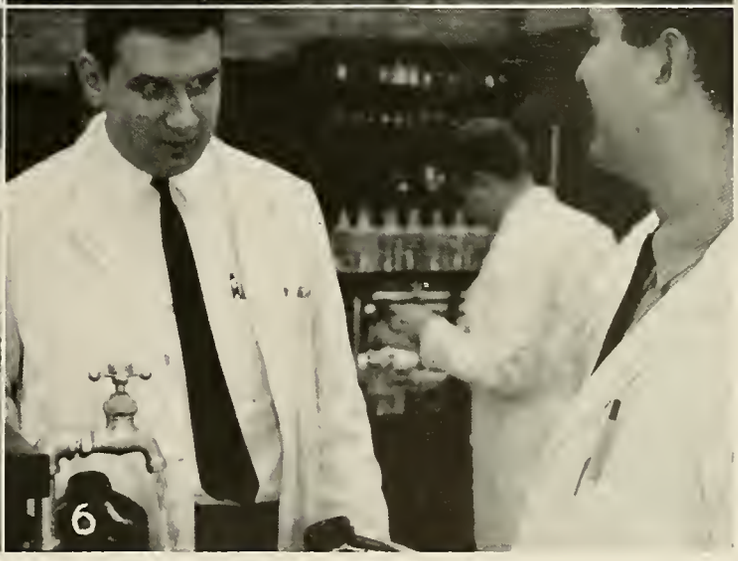
The Freshmen





1. No smoking!
2. The first thing we do is burn our hands.
3. Looks just like mine, terrible!
4. Gee, I hope I don't get any on my hands.
5. The heck with this acrylic gunk! I'm going back to base plates.
6. I wish Dr. Wycall were here.

The Freshmen



1. Look how that gold splashed. I think it flew down here someplace.
2. Mmm — how sweet it is.
3. Will somebody tell me what the heck this has to do with dentistry.
4. .0002 mm. off!
5. Now that I've got the base plate adapted to my hand, then what?
6. Would you believe it, this is my third bottle today.

Gorgas Odontological Society

The Gorgas Odontological Society is an honorary scholastic organization established in 1916. The Society is named in honor of Dr. Ferdinand J. S. Gorgas, an outstanding alumnus and a well-known leader in the field of dental education.

Membership in the Society may be achieved in either the junior or senior year. Considera tion for membership in the Society is based on the premise that certain academic standards have been met during the course of study at the Dental School.

Monthly meetings afford members educational benefits beyond the standard dental school curriculum through the presentations of guest speakers. Each year at the spring formal senior members are presented with a key and certificate

The faculty advisor is Dr. Jose E. Medina,Professor of Operative Dentistry.

Juniors

Seated: Carey, Dent, Klechak, Donaldson, Greenberg.

Secretary-Treasurer ..... JAMES E. BRADLEY

The Student Senate had its beginning at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in 1952 and has been steadily growing in responsibility as the representative organization of the student body. Its main purpose is to serve as a liaison between the sudent body and the faculty in order to collectively solve problems of common interests. The Senate has its own officers and is further composed of two representatives from each class as well as the class presidents and the Interfraternity Council president. The Senate also participates in the Professional Schools Senate. Other functions of the Senate are: participation in the Freshman orientation program, a calendar of student activities, the Student Senate Mixer and class dances, the senior banquet, and a sports program.

BOWLING

The 1963 bowling season began during the first week of October with 10 teams, the greatest number that ever turned out for the league. The administration of the league was ably carried out by Nick Russo and Phil Pushkin.

AO-3 threatened a run away with the first place position during the first two rounds, but then were overtaken by Psi O-2. Since the beginning of the third round, there have been many teams that have held the number one position, but competition was so close that no one team remained number one for any length of time.

Ed Gutman, Ted Freedman and Nick Russo averaged 170 or better as the top three bowlers of the league.

At the end of the season, there will be trophies awarded at a party, which is held annually at the ZIP house.

MIDAS

has become the nationally recognized Pension and Retirement program for Dentists.

Now that you are entering the Dental profession, be sure that you make MIDAS an integral part of your protection, savings and retirement program.

It's not too early . . . for MIDAS plays a big part in your total protecton picture while on your tour of active duty in the armed services . . . or, in those years during which you are becoming established in private practice.

Where else can a graduate student get a full $10,000 of protection for just $25.00 a year (ages 25 through 31), $30.00 a year (ages 31 and over)?

Join MIDAS now and reserve your right to become a full participant in the pension and retirement portion of the program once you become established regardless of where you locate your practice.

For applications and information call or write:

WORK-MODEL FORMERS

These quick, easy steps from the impression to the finished model

1. After taking the impression, remove excess material from the outside surfaces of the tray. (A proper fitting tray should contain all essentials of the impression within its confines.)

2. Hold the impression tray with the borders facing up; insert the handle of the tray down into the slot of the model former, and press tray into place. With the proper size model former the tray fits snugly along front and sides and there is some space at the posterior border.

3. Keep the tray firmly in place by placing the thumb on the top of the tray handle, and the index and middle fingers along the bottom of the model former.

4. The impression is now ready for pouring the cast. The borders must face up, as with a boxed impression, so that the impression should not be inverted.

5. Once the cast has set, pull the posterior wall of the model former away from the cast, and slide the cast and impression tray up and out. The impression tray can now be removed from the cast.

Here is Columbia Dentoform's latest addition to its well-known line of aids to dentistry. These rubber formers eliminate boxing-in of impressions and excess pouring and waste of stone and plaster, and allow immediate pouring of models, without loss of time.

FEATURES — ADVANTAGES

• Accurate Models • Controlled dimensions • Ready for immediate use • Cleaner and neater • Preserves and protects impression borders • Mounting plates can now be used • Eliminates boxing-in, waste of materials, impression distortion, trimming, weak, thin models, lost time, assemblage of parts.

The outfit consists of 4 sets of different sizes of upper and lower rubber formers which can be used with any standard make of impression trays and with all kinds of impression materials.

Price — Catalog No. 910 Outfit $20.00

If you do not have our Catalog No. 33, write for your copy today.

In a modern denture, the one element

most essential to lifelike esthetics is...

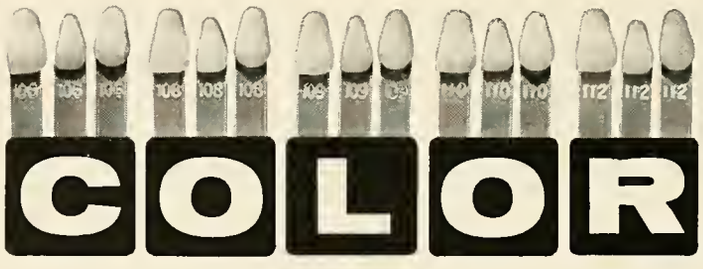
NATURAL TOOTH COLOR



Even when tooth selection procedures are meticulously followed, a denture may well be an esthetic failure if it does not exhibit natural tooth color in the mouth. It's easy to avoid this embarrassing and costly problem by making color selection with the Trubyte Bioblend Selector your first step in designing every denture case. Specify Trubyte Bioblend—the world's only multi-blended porcelain anteriors—there is no substitute!
